

Today your child will be playing a game that consists of three parts.

In the first part, they will be asked some questions about how they are thinking and feeling. Each question will be read out loud to them, and they will respond by saying, “Yes”, “Sometimes”, or “No” and then selecting their answer using the mouse.

Next, they will see pictures of different people and are asked to decide if they feel good or bad.