

Next, your child will learn more about the study and choose whether they would like to participate. When you click the 'Next!' button, the session will start recording. You will have an opportunity to select a privacy level for your video (or delete your video) in the final questions.

If you and your child are ready, click the 'Next!' button!